Update: Fall COVID-19 Boosters

On August 23, Biden administration officials said that, pending final scientific review by the FDA and CDC, updated COVID-19 boosters could be available soon after Labor Day. The updated booster will be a bivalent formula that both boosts immunity against the original coronavirus strain and also protects against the newer Omicron variants that account for most of the current cases. On September 1 and 2, the CDC's advisory panel will meet to review this issue.
